EDUCATION LEADERSHIP CONSULTING SERVICES

The Fraternity National Headquarters serves as the core of the Triangle world. It is the administrative base for both the Fraternity and the Foundation and houses all Triangle archives. The headquarters also serves as the home for all of our initiatives designed to enrich the Triangle experience for our members, both undergraduate and alumni.

Of most significance to our undergraduate members are the Educational Leadership Consulting Services. These services provide leadership training and personal/professional development learning opportunities to our undergraduate members.

These services and learning opportunities are made available in both large and small group settings, with men participating from many chapters and also in settings for individual chapters. The Fraternity Headquarters caters each educational program to the specific group and does so by building a working relationship so they can fully understand the wants and needs of each particular group.

Active organizations, colonies and interest groups have utilized the Triangle Educational Leadership Consulting Services this year to assist with chapter development planning, improving membership education, training new officers during the transition process, and leadership styles and skills training.

How would you like the latest Triangle News delivered directly to your inbox?

The Triangle Education Foundation compiles a monthly newsletter entitled the Triangle Preview. Wouldn't you like to know...

- What is going on with your chapter?
- What events are coming to your area?
- What is new with other Triangle alumni?

Jim McShane is TEF's Newest Board Member

Please join us in welcoming James A. McShane marq65 to the Foundation Board of Directors. Jim is presently CEO of the McShane Companies and President of the McShane Foundation. He received his BCE from Marquette University in 1968. Jim serves on the Marquette University Engineering Advisory Board and was presented the "Don McNeill Award" by his alma mater.

Jim is also on the Builders Association of Greater Chicago Education Foundation Board, is the Planning Commissioner for the Village of Bannockburn, Illinois and is Director of the Chicago Building Congress. He is a member of ASCE, SIOR, NAIOP, AIREB, and in his spare time, Jim serves as President of the Loyola Academy Hockey Club.

Jim resides in Bannockburn, Illinois with his wife Kelly. They have five children – Katie, Don, Molly, Anne and Michael.

Retirement Income You Can Depend On

With all of the ups and downs in the financial markets, many of our older friends are turning to Triangle Education Foundation's gift annuity program to create a steady, dependable stream of lifetime income. They like knowing that every quarter they will receive the same amount, year in and year out.

They like the other benefits, too. Things like a good payment rate (up to 12 percent) and income that is partially tax-free. They like the income tax charitable deduction they receive and, of course, the fact that they are helping a good cause like Triangle.

Easy to Do

To learn more, fill out the coupon below and send it to Triangle's Education Foundation Director of Development. Once we know your age and size of the gift you want to make and whether it will be cash or stock, we can prepare an easy-to-read gift illustration that will tell you:

- How much you will receive for the rest of your life
- How much of your quarterly income will be tax-free
- How big your income tax charitable deduction will be
- How your gift annuity will benefit Triangle

Example

Mr. & Mrs. Smith are both 75 years old. They give $10,000 to Triangle Education Foundation in exchange for a charitable gift annuity. The Triangle rate for their combined ages happens to be 7 percent, which means they will receive $700 every year. (NOTE: The rates vary, depending on one's age and whatever is currently being recommended by the American Council on Gift Annuities.)

The Smiths will receive fixed payments for the rest of their lives. And even when one of them dies, the surviving spouse will continue to receive the same fixed payments for

Special Events

The Foundation has been busy this year hosting alumni events in different parts of the nation. Mr. & Mrs. Steve Miller ill64 were kind enough to open their home to over 40 Triangles the evening of February 22, 2003. Even a group of undergraduates from the Texas A&M interest group were able to join the reception. Thanks again to Steve and Sheila for their hospitality!

On March 5, Triangles gathered for the SAE World Congress in Detroit, MI. Detroit area alumni along with Triangles taking part in the Congress were invited to a reception at Fishbone's Rhythm Kitchen Café in the Greektown area of Detroit. Triangle alumnus Don Hatfield msu88 arranged for free Exhibit Hall passes to those of his Triangle brothers wishing to attend the SAE World Congress. Thanks for your assistance Don!

The next Foundation sponsored event will be in conjunction with the American Society for Engineering Education. Triangles attending the annual meeting of ASEE in Nashville, TN this year are invited to a reception on Monday, June 23, 2003. The reception will be from 7pm - 9pm in the Renaissance Hotel in the Davidson C. Nashville area. All Triangles are invited to join the ASEE attendees for a social evening of brotherhood and networking. Please contact Scott Bova at sbova@triangle.org for more information.

the rest of his or her life. Because the full assets of the Triangle Education Foundation back the payments, the Smiths can have confidence that their annuity checks will always be there for them.

You don't have to be married to obtain a gift annuity. In fact, single-life annuities pay a higher rate. Also, the older a person or couple happens to be, the higher the payment rate.

Why not take a moment to fill out and send in the form below? This will allow us to provide a tailor-made illustration that will show you just how well a charitable gift annuity can work for you. You are under no obligation to proceed with a gift.

It's Convention Time Again!

The Triangle Fraternity National Convention will be held July 31-August 3, 2003. The site for this year's Convention is the luxurious Seelbach Hilton in Louisville, KY. It has held the distinction of being Louisville's premier hotel since it's grand opening in 1905 and appears on the National Register of Historic Places.

The National Convention is the largest meeting of Triangles that takes place every two years. This event gives undergraduates the opportunity to network with brothers from across the country and provides them with ideas to improve their individual chapters. Triangle alumni will be in attendance in order to share their knowledge and experience with our undergraduates.

One setting where alumni will be able to share ideas with the younger Triangles will be in Fireside Chats. The purpose of the Fireside Chats is to allow convention attendees to interact with different generations of Triangle members about life, the world after college, and our Fraternity. Our students will be encouraged to seek information relevant to their future plans and to establish relationships between today's undergraduate member and today's business leaders.
